REGISTRATION RENEWALS

Renewal notices will be sent via U.S. postal mail on or about August 15. Registrants can renew by paper or electronically via the Board's web site. Here are some important reminders about registration renewal:

- Unless exempted, each registrant must report a minimum of 12 hours of HSW-related continuing education earned between 1/1/2013 and 12/31/2013.
- Renewal of your registration is YOUR personal responsibility, and YOU (not your administrative staff) will be held responsible for incorrect information provided as part of your renewal.
- If a registrant has been the subject of a disciplinary action in another state since his/her last renewal, it must be reported as part of the renewal process. Failure to do so may result in an administrative review by the Board and potential disciplinary action.

PERSONAL HARDSHIP EXEMPTION

A registrant may request a personal hardship exemption that will relieve him/her from the continuing education requirements in order to renew his/her registration. Requests for a personal hardship exemption must be received by September 1. A personal hardship is a significant life event that prevented you from complying with the Alabama Board's continuing education requirements. To aid the board in its decision, you must attach supporting documentation, including but not limited to pertinent medical documents or a letter detailing how your personal circumstances prevented you from complying with the continuing education requirements.

LICENSE RENEWAL AND CONTINUING EDUCATION UPDATE

By: Mr. Marzette Fisher, Board Chairman

The job of tracking professional registrations can be onerous. Occasionally, important obligations are overlooked. Regardless of the complexity of requirements, they are essential to professional practice. Failure to meet one's obligations has consequences, and in certain instances, loss of privileges.

Two registration and renewal issues appear frequently before the Board:

- Delinquent licensure renewal.
- Continuing education non-compliance.

Compliance with both requirements is essential to legal practice. Failure to comply and continuing to practice is against the law

If this unfortunate situation occurs, registrants should be aware it triggers a chain of procedural requirements. To reinstate a license, one must formally acknowledge his/her professional status while holding an expired (invalid) license, which may result in a Board action (practice without a license) permanently recorded in your record, possibly affecting reciprocity in some jurisdictions. Likewise, failure to disclose the Board action on future applications for licensure can result in additional actions. It quickly spirals out of control – all over failure to renew on time and satisfy continuing education requirements.

A common misconception is that if one's license expires he/she can practice under the "direct supervision and control" of a peer registrant in good standing. This is incorrect. Direct supervision and control targets two groups:

- Intern architects in good standing, working under direct control and supervision of a licensed architect in good standing in the jurisdiction in which services are delivered.
- Licensed architects in another jurisdiction practicing in a jurisdiction in which they are not licensed, working under direct supervision and control of an architect licensed in the jurisdiction in which the services are delivered.

An architect without a valid license is ineligible to practice architecture (defined by law) in any jurisdiction at any time.

Registrants have commented on lack of coordinated deadlines for licensure renewal (9/30) and continuing education (12/31). Legislation was introduced in the past legislative session to coordinate these deadlines; however, it did not pass. We are hopeful for the next legislative session.

With over 2,500 active architects licensed in Alabama, the Board makes every reasonable effort to inform the registrants of duties and deadlines. Requirements are also clearly spelled out in the Law (red book). Maintaining a valid license to practice in good standing is your responsibility. If in doubt, call the Board office in advance of the deadline to keep your license in good standing.

MAJOR CHANGE TO ARE® RETAKE POLICY

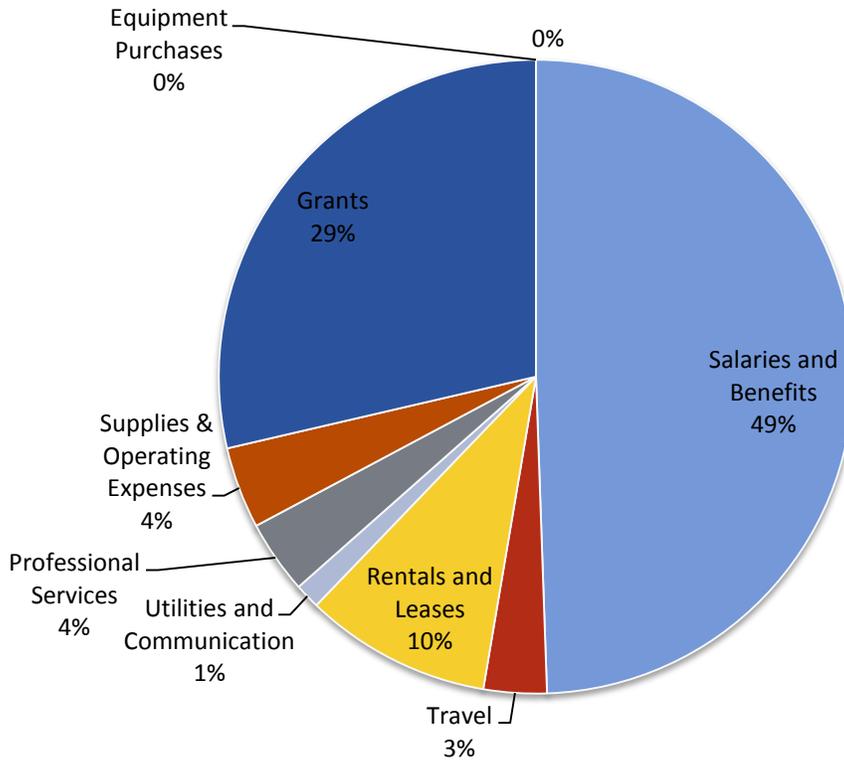

Effective October 1, 2014, the wait time for retesting for the Architect Registration Examination® (ARE®) divisions will decrease from six months to 60 days. This will allow candidates who have failed a division to retake the division as soon as 60 days after the previous attempt, up to three times in a running year for any one division.

This change is possible because of a recent system implementation of My Examination in late 2013 that provided NCARB with a sophisticated technology platform to better implement candidate management services. This crucial improvement allows NCARB to decrease the wait time between retesting on a division while ensuring the protection of exam content. The new retest policy will continue to protect against over-exposure to examination content, and provide failing score reports to guide retest preparation. The shorter wait before retesting will maintain candidate focus and interest in the exam.

Candidates who fail a division sometime between July and September may prefer to wait to schedule their retest appointment until after October 1, 2014 for earlier access to retesting.
